CONNECTING HUMANS SO THEY LEARN FROM EACH OTHER

- Community Strengthening
- Mobile

E-180 creates web and mobile matchmaking tools, connecting like-minded people interested in learning from each other, one-on-one, in person, through 'brain dates'. E-180 turns spaces, organisations, events and cities into peer-learning hubs.

E-180 stems from the hard-held belief that all humans possess the power to develop their full potential autonomously, with a little help from their community. The team believe that education is a relationship, not an institution, and that one hour of our time may change another person's life. Its mission is to promote these values by helping fellow humans connect and share knowledge.
