FAST is smart tail light which you can affix to any form of bicycle. It comprises an LED light that talks to a smartphone app.

The light is capable of detecting changes in the bike's motion or position, so if there's a collision it can auto-alert your emergency contacts. It will also glow brighter if it perceives there's not enough light (i.e. at night or when you're cycling through a tunnel).

If your bike is being shaken or moved while you're away from it, an alarm will sound on your phone to inform you.
