The Shoothill GaugeMap is the first interactive map with live river-level data from over 2,400 Environment Agency and Natural Resources Wales river-level gauges in England and Wales.

The extensive network of river-level gauges across England and Wales covers all the major rivers as well as many smaller rivers, streams and brooks. The data displayed on each of the river-level gauges on GaugeMap is recorded at 15-minute intervals by the Environment Agency and Natural Resources Wales.
