

HACKER SCHOOL

TEACHING PROGRAMMING IN A NEW YORK 'RETREAT'

Project URL: hackerschool.com

Project Twitter: @hackerschool

- Community Engagement
- Education
- Physical Computing
- Social Software

Hacker School is a free, full-time, immersive school in New York for people who want to improve their programming skills. The school likens itself to a writers' retreat for programmers. People come from around the world to write code and grow as programmers. The school is run in three-month sessions, called batches, and each batch has about 35 people. Batches overlap with each other. The organisation makes money by helping companies hire their alumni.

Last updated: 09th of June, 2014