HunchLab is a web-based proactive patrol management system. Advanced statistical models forecast when and where crimes are likely to emerge. But it's not just about anticipating crime, it's about figuring out the best way to respond.

HunchLab believes that tactics should not only be effective, but also reflect the community's priorities. It therefore provides features that: (1) align patrol activities with the priorities of the community, (2) intelligently allocate resources to prevent over-policing, and (3) determine which tactics work and which don't.
